DeVORE - BRACY
DESCENDANTS

1812 - 1961

Compiled by

Dorotha Schweitzer & Alma Hector

THIS PAPER IS DEDICATED TO THE

DEVORE AND BRACY FAMILIES

Dear relatives:

It is with pleasure that we present to you this paper of the record of George Washington DeVore, and Mary Jane (Bracy) DeVore and their decendants.

In the fall of 1957 I became interested in this quite suddenly while I was copying the dates of births, marriages, and deaths of our own family which my Mother had kept for her own reference. I sent out some cards and letters to the close cousins, thinking it would be very interesting to include them also. Some readily answered and others I have never heard from so, I am sorry the record is not a complete one as you will readily see.

Since that time we have been trying to make any contacts at all possible to receive as much information as could be found. Would have been much easier if this would have been started years ago or at least while many of the older generation lived.

It was possible to add to the information in our possession only through the interest, labor and kindness of a number of relatives and friends to whom we applied to for aid, and those responding. Our sincere thanks are extended to each one of you. Without the help that you have given, this task could never been accomplished.

Especially do I want to thank Alma (DeVore) Hector who offered to help me when she received my card. I was very glad for her assist - ance. Being a few years older she knew some things and some of the older people.

To the best of our knowledge and belief, the dates and facts are correct. If errors have occurred, we beg your pardon for the same.

This has been a pleasant and interesting task, and we hope it will please you and that you will prize it more as the years come and go.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. Dorotha (Kagy) Schweitzer

Mrs. Alma (DeVore) Hector

INTRODUCTION

In the early half of the 19th Century there lived in Tuscarawas County, Ohio, a French family by the name of DeVore, who had arrived with the first settlers of that section. Among their children born after their location in Tuscarawas County, was a son named William, who after reaching maturity was married to Fanny Alford, a native of the adjoining County of Carroll.

This couple lived but a few years after their marriage, and at their death left four helpless children, the youngest of which was six months old.

After the parents death six months apart, the children were taken and raised by foster parents. (Presumed the foster parents were neighbors.) George W. and Elizabeth were raised by Charles Robinsons living at Carroll County, Ohio. The Robinsons had no children of their own. James and Mary Anne were taken by some people by the name of Perviance or Purvince, as told to us by Evelyn (DeVore) Goodnow, a daughter of James. This family lived at Smithsfield, Ohio near Stubenville, Ohio. Later this family moved west, and George did not see his brother again until 1910 or 1911.

After a lapse of sixty five years, James finally located George W. Knowing he was born in Carroll County, he returned in 1911 and began his search. When he got to Carroll County he found an old lady who told him where he could find his sister Elizabeth. He went there and, when she saw him coming she said, " That is my brother Jim". Her daughter said, " Such an idea", for they had tried to trace Jim for years. Elizabeth ask if he had scars on certain parts of his body, he did, that making her sure he was her long gone Jim. He had been scalded in hot water when a little boy.

They 'went' for George and The John Richards family. The Richards were then living at Smithsfield, Ohio near Stubenville, Ohio. There a picture was taken of the two brothers and the sister. They went to visit Loren Richards and he took them to the Wheeling West Virginia fair. It was the first time the brothers had crossed the Ohio River since they were in the Civil War. James and George were both in the Civil War and fought in some of the same Battles but never met. James was educated at Valparaiso Univerity, Indiana. Mary Anne had married a man by the name of E. Greene, who was a Minister in Iowa, she died about 1904 in that State.

Following are two Biographical Histories of George Washington DeVore

Centennial Biographical History of Hancock County, Ohio in 1903.

GEORGE WASHINGTON DEVORE

The subject of this sketch, whose name is above presented, now a prosperious farmer of Blanchard Township, can look back over a long life, whose early beginning gave little promise of future success. In fact his lot was that one which of all that befall human beings is perhaps the one most to be dreaded - the one being left an orphan of tender years, to be thrust out upon the cold charity of the world, among strangers, with the consequent neglect and ill treatment which is almost sure to follow. Yet from such a fate Mr. DeVore struggled manfully up to a position of standing in his community possessed of a comfortable competence and, what is still better, the good will and esteem of all his neighbors. It is pleasant to talk or write about such men and no doubt a brief summary of his career will be pursued with interest.

George W. DeVore was born in Carroll County, Ohio, July 4, 1841, and at the time of his parents death was but seven years of age. He met the usual fate of an orphan by being cast among strangers to be reared and his education was so badly neglected that he was compelled later in life to educate himself with the assistance of his wife.

After a life of bitter struggle and privation he at lenghth found himself at the age of 19 years, confronted with the problem of obtaining a livelihood.

In debt of $ 8.00 hanging over him, which to this inexperienced wanderer at that time seemed as heavy as a mountain. But young DeVore was made of the stuff that is proof against hardship and which eventually never fails to rescue its possessor from most environments. He set to work and through his tasks were arduous and but ill requitted he found steady labor, the true panacea for most of all the ills in life. His wife's parents gave them 40 acres of land in the wilds of Putnam County, which had cost them $ 300.

Mr. DeVore built on this, cleared and improved it and in time sold it for $ 1000. At a later period he bought 190 acres of good land in Hancock County, Ohio, and this estate, which is situated in Blanchard township, consttutes his present place of residence. In March 1865, Mr. DeVore enlisted in Company 1, One hundred and ninety - seventh Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, with which he served until honoeably discharged at the close of war.

He has held several township offices and taken a modest part in public affairs of a local nature. His religious affiliations are with the United Bretheren Church and his Fraternal connections with the Odd Fellows, Daughters of Rebecca and Lindsay Post No. 75, Grand Army of the Republic.

Mr. DeVore was happy in the selection of his wife, his choice being Mary Jane (Braszi) now Bracy, to whom he was united July 1, 1860. This lady not only preformed all her martial duties with unwearying affection but was helpful in enabling her husband to obtain a good English Education. She was born June 20, 1840, of French parents and passed away March 1, 1901, without making an enemy during her long and blameless lif. This union proved as fruitful as it was happy, the household being brightened by the following list of children; John W. b. 1861, James Isaac, b. 1864, George C., b. 1868, David A., b. 1871; Henry E., b. 1873; Lillie May, b. 1876; Samuel H., b. 1879; Mary Ellen, b. 1881; and Jennie A., b. 1883. It remains only to be added that George W. DeVore is a man of integrity, honest in all his dealings and a self made man in the best sense of the word.

NOTE : This is a little tale Grandpa told of his early life. His foster father was a horse thief. He would steal horses and demand George to deliver them. George had said he was going to run off and was threatened if he ever tried to run away he would be badly beaten. He did run away and far enough that he was never found by his Foster Parents. George came to this county and raised a family of six sons and three daughters, and served a term in the Civil War.

GEORGE WASHINGTON DEVORE
(From the Putnam County Book 1915, page 769)

George W. DeVore was born in Carroll county, Ohio July 4, 1841, the son of William and Fanny (Alford) DeVore. William DeVore was of French parentage, but a native of England, where he spent his youth. Here he was educated and graduated from England's best institutions of learning. He came to America in the early days and settled in Carroll county, Ohio, where he owned a farm. He and his wife were the parents of four children, all born in Carroll county. They were as follows : Mrs. Mary Ann Green, George W., James and Mrs. Elizabeth Richards.

George W. DeVore lost his parents when he was a small child, probably not more than four or five years of age. After the death of the parents the children were taken and reared by neighbors. George W. and Elizabeth were reared by Charles Robinson The family which took the other children, later went West, and George W. did not see his brother and sister again until five years ago, in 1910, after a lapse of sixty-five years. James finally located his brother, George W., when it developed that the former had gone to the Civil War and had been educated at Valparaiso University.

Mary Ann had married a man by the name of Green, who was a Minister in Iowa, and she had died, about 1904, in that state. George W. DeVore spent his youth and young manhood on the farm of Charles Robinson, in Carroll county, Ohio, and received his early education there. At the age of nineteen or about 1859, he came to Putnam county, Ohio, and worked for George Kober, in Blanchard township.

Two years after coming to Blanchard township Mr. DeVore was married to Mary Jane Bracy, who was born in Blanchard township, June 30, 1840. She was the daughter of John Bracy Sr., and his wife, whose family history is con - tained in the sketch of Isaac Bracy, her brother, found elsewhere in this volume. After his marriage George W. DeVore continued, for a time, to work for George Kober, and then he started to work for himself, locating north of Gilboa, Ohio. (Now known as the George Forney home) Shortly after this, in 1863, he enlisted in the Civil War and served until its close, when he returned home and took up farming on forty acres, which his wife had inherited from her father, John Bracy. George W. DeVore was a successful farmer, and managed to acquire about three hundred and fifty acres, eighty acres of which George C. now owns and lives on.

Mrs. George W. DeVore died on March 1, 1903, at the age of sixty two. She and her husband were the parents of nine children, all of whom are living. They are as follow : John W., James Isaac, George C., David A., Henry E., Lillie May, Samuel H., Mary Ellen, and Jennie Alice.

Note:
As written on this 18th. of Jan. 1960, all are deceased since 1956.

197th OHIO VOLUNTEER INFANTRY

(This is the Infantry in which George Washington DeVore served)

This was not only the last regiment which Ohio sent to the field, but was also the last complete organization which the State raised for service during the rebellion. Of its officers all except five had seen active service in other commands, and nearly one-half of the men were experienced soldiers.

The first Company was mustered in on the 28th of March, 1865, at Camp Chase, and the organization of the regiment was completed on the 12th of April. It was recruited to a total strength of one thousand and six men, but the casualties incident to organization and barrick-life its effective force was reduced to about Nine Hundred men. On the 25th of April the One Hundred and Ninety-Seventh left Camp Chase and proceeded by railroad to Washington City, and on its arrival received the tiding of the surrender of General Johnston's Army - dispelling every prospect of active service.

The regiment was temporarily assigned to the Ninth Corps, and on the 29th of April marched through Alexandria and encamped two miles beyond. On the 9th day of May, with the Two Hundred and Fifteenth Pennsylvania and One Hundred and Fifty Fifth Indiana, it was incorporated in the Provisional Brigade, Ninth Army Corps. Two days later the brigade broke camp, marched to Washington, and embarked on cars for Dover, Delaware, and arriving on the 5th day of May it encamped at Camp Harrington. Here the One Hundred and Ninety-Seventh spent four pleasant weeks, enjoying the generous hospitalities of the loyal village of Camden, and engages in the usual routine of camp duties.

On the 31st of May the regiment moved by rail to Havre de Grace, Maryland was broken up into detachments, and performed guard duty along the railroad southward to Baltimore. At the date last mentioned the regiment became a part of the Third " Separate Brigade," Eighth Army Corps. The regimental head quarters were removed to Fort Worthiggton,near Baltimore, on the 3rd day of July, and at that time several companies were on duty as guards at the various forts, camps, and hospitals in and around the city.

The regiment re-assembled at Camp Bradford, near Baltimore, and on the 31st of July was mustered out of the service. It was paid at Ted Barracks, Columbus, Ohio, and was disbanded on the 6th of August, 1865.

ORIGIN OF DEVORE NAME

NICHOLAS DeVORE, was born in Germany, on the Rhine River. He was the son of a foundling; the child being found in a furrow when plowing, from which circumstance the child was called " DEVARRO" - The furrow, hence the name, the English, French, and German, from which the word is derived, was in English corrupted and called " DEVORE ", meaning the place found. He was born the same year as General Washington, (Feb. 22, 1732), and with whom he served in the American Revolution, and the Indian Wars all seven years.

Upon emigrating from the old world he settled in Washington County, Pennsylvania. In 1787 he moved to Kentucky with a large family, his son David being at that time 15 years of age.

They embarked in a flat boat at Fort Pitt (Now Pittsburgh, Pa.) and landed after a tedious voyage at Limestone (Now Maysville, Kentucky), and settled four miles south of that place, near Washington, the first county seat of Mason County.

Here they moved into a Fort, or Stockade, called "KENTON'S STATION ". In 1796 David DeVore married Alice Mann, and in 1800 emigrated to what is now Brown County, Ohio, and settled on the Red Oak Creek, six miles north of the present town of Ripley. The spot where he located was in an unbroken forest. Here he constructed a rude cabin of logs, and began the tilling of the soil. He afterwards in a few years constructed a large double log house, which served as a meeting house; there being neither Churches nor schools in that day.

TWELFTH OHIO VOLUNTEER CAVALRY

(Cavalry in which Isaac Bracy served)

The Twelfth Ohio Cavalry was recruited during the months of September and October, 1863, from nearly every county in the State, rendezvousing at Camp Taylor, near Cleveland, where it mustered into service on the 24th day of November, 1863. One half of the regiment was engaged in doing guard duty, during the winter of 1863-1863, on Johnson's Island, having been ordered there on the 10th of November. On the 29th the regiment moved from Camp Dennison, where it was mounted, armed, and equipped, to Louisville, and then to Lexington and Mount Sterling.

Little of importance transpired until the 23rd of May, when the regiment was aportion of General Burbredge's command on the first Saltville raid.

On the arrival in the vicinity of Pound Gap, after eight days marching, it became evident that John Morgan had entered Kentucky, and the command immediately started in pursuit. After severe marching, with but little time for eating or sleeping, the command arrived at Mount Sterling on the 9th of June, 1864. The Twelfth was closely engaged with the Rebels at this point, behaving with great gallantry, and being especially complimented by General Burbridge. The Twelfth again overtook Morgan at Cynthiana, and fought with him, scattering his force in every direction. The regiment charged through the town, crossed the river, and pursued the retreating Rebels for three days.

On the 30th of July a portion of Company A attacked some sixty guerrillas near Lebanon, Kentucky, killing their leader and five of his six men, and completely routing the remainder. Except during a march to Burnside's Point, the head-quarters of the regiment were at Richmond, Kentucky, until September 20th, when it started, in General Burbridge's command, on a second expedition to Saltville. The salt works were reached, and the regiment engaged for a half day of hard fighting. It becoming necessary to silence a battery posted upon a hill, the Twelfth, with its brigade, charged up the hill and drove the enemy from his works. After this the head-quarters of the regiment were established at Lexington, the companies being scattered through different counties, until they were ordered to Crab Orchard to join another Saltville expedition. The division, General Burbridge commanding, left Crab Orchard on the 22nd of November, during a severe snow-storm, and moved via Cumberland Gap to Bean's Station. On the night of their arrival the Twelfth made a successful reconnoissance to Rogersville. It did its full share of duty under General Stoneman, at Bristol, at Abingdon, at Marion, where General Stoneman engaged Breckinridge for forty hours, and finally defeated him. In this engagement all of the Twelfth bearing sabers, participated in a grand charge, driving back the enemy's cavalry. The regiment behaved gallantly throughout the fight, and received the praises of General Stoneman and Gen. Burbridge.

On the 21st of December Saltville was captured, and the forces returned to Kentucky, and regimental head-quarters again established at Richmond. As the result of this raid four boats were captured, one hundred and fifty miles of railroad, thirteen trains and locomotives, lead mines, salt works, iron foundries, and an immense quanity of stores of all sorts, were completely destroyed. During the raid Company F acted as escort to General Burbridge.

About the middle of February the regiment was thouroughly armed, equipped and mounted. It then proceeded by way of Louisville, and the river to Nash - ville, arriving March 6th. From Nashville it moved to Murfreesboro, and from there to Knoxville. At this point it again formed part of a raiding expedition under General Stoneman. They penetrated North Carolina, and by an angular movement struck the Lynchburg and East Tennessee Railroad at Christiansburg, Virginia,

That was destroyed for some thirty miles, and they next cut the Danville and Charlotte Railroad at Greensboro, North Carolina. This drew the garrison from Salisbury, and cutting the road again between them and Salisbury, that place, with its stores and the National prisoners confined there, fell into our hands on April 12th. Moving south they destroyed sections of branch railroads to Morgantown and Rutherford, and the Danville and Columbia Road south of Charlotte, and the work seemed done.

Thenceforward they added in the capture of Jefferson Davis, moving through South Carolina, Georgia, and Alabama, capturing Generals Bragg and Wheeler, and their escorts, and finally reaching Bridgeport, Alabana, having Lenoir, East Tennessee, where it remained three months, and about the forst of Sept. moved to Pulaski, where the regimental head-quarters were established, while the companies were scattered through several counties, enforcing law and order.

The Twelfth fianally rendezvoused at Nashville, and was mustered out on the 14th of November, 1865; then proceeded to Columbus, where it was paid and discharged on the 22nd and 23rd of the same month, after two years of incessant service.

We found the name of Bracy spelled, Braze, Bracey, Bracy, Braszi.

BRACY GENEAOLGY

Great Grandfather, John Bracy Sr. was born Sept. 20, 1813, died Dec. 19, 1883, was married to Mary Madeline (Batway) daughter of Joseph and Madeline (Munn) Batway, of France. Mary Madeline Batway was born May 10, 1816 and died Oct. 10, 1865, at 49 years and 3 months of age. Joseph Batway, was born around 1788 and died around 1867, at nearly 80 years of age.

Joseph Batway, and family came to America from France in the year of 1832. He was a soldier in Napoleon's Army at the time Napoleon invaded Russia in 1812. Saw the burning of Moscow, and survived the terrible retreat back to France. He was also in the Battle of Waterloo,

In 1832 he sold or disposed of his five acre farm near Metz, in Alsace - Lorraine and with his wife and seven children, (some of them grown and one a babe in arms) and several other families started for America. Some of the families of this group settled in Wayne County, Ohio. In this new home Peter the youngest child was born Aug. 13, 1834.

Here are the names and a little history of the family of children of this first Joseph Batway. Margaret, Joseph Jr., Frank, Madeline (Great Grand-Mother), Victory, Catherine, Selestay, and Peter. Peter is the Father-in-law of Mrs. Charles (Susan) Batway who furnished this information in her late eighties or early nineties.

Margaret, the oldest of the family, in the early 40's with her husband John Ruland and three children braved the terrors of forest trails with an ox team to make her home in Wisconsin, and settled twelve miles from LaCrosse, she was more than ninety years old when she died.

Joseph Jr. the oldest son of the family, went to California in the " GOLD RUSH of 1849 ". He wrote he had money to keep him all his life, and was starting for home, never was heard from again. Frank, lived in Louisana at the time of the Civil War. He and his two sons fought in the Confederate Army. Frank had a home at the mouth of the Red River, Louisana. He was a slave owner. He and his two sons were in the Confederate Army.

Selesty, born July 4, 1831, married and made his new home in Monroe County, Michigan. In the year of 1859 he ran through a forest fire to free his oxen tied to a tree, inhaled flames which made him an invalid the rest of his life. He died in 1875.

Peter Sr., born Aug. 13, 1834, the only one of this family born in America followed his brother to Michigan. Gettysburg and the Wilderness were among the Battles in which he fought. Was wounded at Dabneys Mill, Feb. 1865. He returned home at the end of the War, and died in 1911.

The girls of this first family settled in Ohio, and their descendants still live in Ohio.

SELESTAY'S FAMILY

Joseph Ezra Batway, born Sept. 15, 1852, in Exeter Township, Monroe County, Michigan. Died March 27, 1899, at the above location, buried in Mallet Cemetery, New Boston, Michigan. Married Adriene Elizina Whitcomb, of Battle Creek, Michigan, June 13, 1870, at Careton, Michigan. She was born Oct. 14, 1857, died May 5, 1942. From this marriage the following issue :

John Bracy Sr. born Sept. 20, 1813, died Dec. 19, 1883, Great Grand - father, was born about 50 miles from Paris, France, and came to America with John Steiner, who settled in Allen County, Ohio, in 1831. In return for the expens incurred by Mr. Steiner for his trip, he worked for him for one year after his arrival in this country. At the expiration of this year, Mr. Steiner entered 80 acres of land in Putnam County, Blanchard Township, Ohio, for Mr. Bracy, about one and one half miles south of the present town of Gilboa, Ohio.

For this he worked two additional years for Mr. Steiner and then started out for himself on this 80 acres, in 1834. About this time he was 24 years old. He went to Wayne County, Ohio, and there was married to Mary Madeline Batway, the daughter of Joseph and Madeline TMunn Batway. After his marriage, John Bracy settled on the 80 acres which he had entered and he and his wife took their wedding journey behind a yoke of oxen to their new found home in the wilderness. This trip occupied several days, being over 100 miles. They built a cabin, 14x18 feet, in the woods and for several years they had nothing but ground floor and a stick chimney, built on the outside of the wall, for a fire place. They started to clear the land and as fast as they cleared a little piece they planted a crop.

It is related that in those days of their struggle and hardships, John Bracy was compelled to go on horse back to Tiffin, Ohio, 50 miles, to a mill with a two bushel sack of grain, the trip sometimes taking a week. At times when they ran out of meal, he would take corn on the cob and grate it on a home made grater, consisting of a piece of tin with nail holes punched through it. This product was used to make bread, Mrs. Bracy spun her own flax, but later the flax was taken to an old woman by the name of Butler, who had a loom. There the flax was woven into linsey cloth, which material had to serve for clothing for the entire family. After their first few years of privation and hardships, they succeeded, by dint of energy, in becoming quite comfortable and in that day were considered prosperious.

Note: Mary Madeline Batway Bracy, was born in France and was a Catholic, but after coming to this country there were no Catholics for her to associate with so she became a Protestant. They held protracted meetings in their home before there was a church in which to worship. It was thriugh their efforts that the Saint Paul's United Brethern Church was built in Riley township, on the Baseline Road. The old Church is now an out building on the farm of Zerona Kerns.

From time to time, John Bracy Sr. added to his original land holdings until, when he died in 1872, he owned 400 acres of land. His wife died in November 1865. To this union were born 4 children : 1. Mary Jane Bracy, the wife of George Washington DeVore, 2. Jerusha, who married Aurora Guisinger, 3. Isaac, married Mary Ann (Dove) Crawfis, and 4. John C. Bracy, who married Easter Harris. The entire family, births, marriages and deaths are found in the DeVore Genealogy, of the Mary Jane Bracy DeVore family.

John Bracy Sr. was married a second time to Mrs. Sarah (Pence) Jones, of Putnam County, formerly of Allen County, in December, 1867. Two children were born to this union, 1 daughter and 1 son, Nora B. Bracy, married Henry Sherman Ketner, and Andrew Duff Bracy, married Anna Harris.
